

Technical Accounting Alert

Accounting Standards issued but not yet effective for June 2016

Introduction

The objective of this Technical Accounting (TA) Alert is to:

- provide information regarding the Accounting Standards (and Interpretations) that have been issued with an effective date post 30 June 2016; and
- assist entities in meeting the disclosure requirements in paragraph 30 of AASB 108 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors

Overview

When the AASB issues a new or revised Standard (or an Interpretation)¹ with an effective date after the end of the reporting period, an entity² has a choice of either:

- early adoption of the Standards in accordance with section 334(5) of Corporations Act 2001 (via a Director's minute – an example is included in this Alert) and disclosing this fact in the financial statements; or
- not adopting the Standard; in which case the entity must comply with paragraph 30 of AASB 108

Requirements of paragraph 30 of AASB 108

30 When an entity has not applied a new Australian Accounting Standard that has been issued but is not yet effective, the entity shall disclose:

- a This fact; and
- b Known or reasonably estimable information relevant to assessing the possible impact that application of the new Australian Accounting Standard will have on the entity's financial statements in the period of initial application.

¹ Where an entity includes an explicit and unreserved statement of compliance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) as required by paragraph 16 of AASB 101 Presentation of Financial Statements, the entity needs to consider Standards issued by the IASB but not yet issued by the AASB. This is likely to apply to all entities, except for those issuing special purpose financial statements and not-for-profit entities.

² The requirements of paragraph 30 of AASB 108 are mandatory for all entities preparing financial statements under Part 2M.3 of the Corporations Act 2001 and for those preparing general purpose financial statements (excluding entities applying Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements).

All TA Alerts can be found on the National Intranet (<http://gtassist.au.gt.local/>) under Professional Services/Audit & Assurance (for Grant Thornton staff only) and the Grant Thornton website (www.grantthornton.com.au) under Insights/Technical publications. This Alert is not a comprehensive analysis of the subject matter covered and is not intended to provide accounting or auditing advice. All relevant facts and circumstances, including the pertinent authoritative literature, need to be considered to arrive at accounting and audit decisions that comply with matters addressed in this Alert. Liability limited by a scheme approved under Professional Standards Legislation. Liability is limited in those States where a current scheme applies.

Furthermore, paragraph 31 of AASB 108 states that in complying with paragraph 30 an entity should consider disclosing:

- a The title of the new Australian Accounting Standard;
- b The nature of the impending change or changes in accounting policy;
- c The date by which application of the Australian Accounting Standard is required;
- d The date at which the entity plans to apply the Australian Accounting Standard initially; and
- e Either:
 - i A discussion of the impact that initial application of the Australian Accounting Standard is expected to have on the entity's financial report; or
 - ii If the impact is not known or reasonably estimable; a statement to that effect.

Standards and Interpretations with an effective date post 30 June 2016

The table following (pages 3-16) summarises all Accounting Standards (and Interpretations) that have been issued by the AASB and IASB as at 3 May 2016. Any further Standards (and Interpretations) issued after this date will also need to be disclosed up until the date of authorisation of the financial report.

Although the table lists most of the Standards (and Interpretations) issued but not yet effective, entities should only disclose Standards (and Interpretations) that are relevant to them. For instance, a for-profit entity does not need to disclose the impact of a new Standard that only applies to entities in the public sector.

In addition, it is important that the sample disclosure/indicative impact for each Standard and Interpretation is tailored to suit the particular circumstances of each entity. Entities should pay particular attention to this disclosure, considering that the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) has been expressing concerns over a number of years with entities providing 'boiler plate' disclosures.

Entities applying Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements (RDR)

RDR entities are not required to disclose Accounting Standards issued but not yet effective. Accordingly, none of the RDR-related amendments have been included in the table.

Early adoption of Standards

Where Standards or Interpretations are adopted early, the following Director's minutes may be used for Corporations Act entities³:

"In accordance with s334(5) of the Corporations Act, the Directors are early adopting the following Accounting Standards:

- list Standards / Interpretations"

³ Section 334(5) of Corporations Act 2001 states that a company, registered scheme or disclosing entity may elect to apply the Accounting Standard to an earlier period unless the Standard says otherwise. The election must be made in writing by the Directors.

AASB 9 Financial Instruments (December 2014) [Also refer to AASB 2013-9 and AASB 2014-1 below]	AASB 139 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement	AASB 9 introduces new requirements for the classification and measurement of financial assets and liabilities and includes a forward-looking 'expected loss' impairment model and a substantially-changed approach to hedge accounting. These requirements improve and simplify the approach for classification and measurement of financial assets compared with the requirements of AASB 139. The main changes are: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Financial assets that are debt instruments will be classified based on: (i) the objective of the entity's business model for managing the financial assets; and (ii) the characteristics of the contractual cash flows. Allows an irrevocable election on initial recognition to present gains and losses on investments in equity instruments that are not held for trading in other comprehensive income (instead of in profit or loss). Dividends in respect of these investments that are a return on investment can be recognised in profit or loss and there is no impairment or recycling on disposal of the instrument. Introduces a 'fair value through other comprehensive income' measurement category for particular simple debt instruments. Financial assets can be designated and measured at fair value through profit or loss at initial recognition if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition inconsistency that would arise from measuring assets or liabilities, or recognising the gains and losses on them, on different bases. Where the fair value option is used for financial liabilities the change in fair value is to be accounted for as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the change attributable to changes in credit risk are presented in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI) the remaining change is presented in profit or loss If this approach creates or enlarges an accounting mismatch in the profit or loss, the effect of the changes in credit risk are also presented in profit or loss. Otherwise, the following requirements have generally been carried forward unchanged from AASB 139 into AASB 9: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> classification and measurement of financial liabilities; and derecognition requirements for financial assets and liabilities 	1 January 2018	[If the entity has undertaken a detailed assessment and concluded that there will be no material impact] When this standard is first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2019, there will be no material impact on the transactions and balances recognised in the financial statements. [If the entity has undertaken a detailed assessment and concluded that there will be material impact] Based on the entity's assessment, it is expected that the first-time adoption of AASB 9 for the financial year ending 30 June 2019 will have a material impact on the transactions and balances recognised in the financial statements, in particular: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (insert impact) (insert impact) [If the entity has not undertaken a detailed assessment but expects there will be no material impact based on a preliminary assessment] The entity is yet to undertake a detailed assessment of the impact of AASB 9. AASB 9 Financial Instruments (December 2014) continued	(As above)	AASB 9 requirements regarding hedge accounting represent a substantial overhaul of hedge accounting that enable entities to better reflect their risk management activities in the financial statements. Furthermore, AASB 9 introduces a new impairment model based on expected credit losses. This model makes use of more forward-looking information and applies to all financial instruments that are subject to impairment accounting. See TA Alert 2009-22, TA Alert 2010-49, TA Alert 2013-13 and TA Alert 2014-09 for further information. Note that ASIC included the disclosure of the impact of AASB 9 as a key focus area for the 31 December 2015 reporting season, so it is important for Directors to ensure that 30 June 2016 financial reports disclose the specific impact of AASB 9.
AASB 1056 Superannuation Entities	AAS 25 Financial Reporting by Superannuation Plans	AASB 1056 replaces the existing requirements in AAS 25, and applies to large superannuation entities regulated by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA) and to public sector superannuation entities. This Standard is expected to result in significant changes to the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosures relating to superannuation entity financial statements. Some of the key changes include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • greater level of integration between AASB 1056 and other Australian Accounting Standards • a revised definition of a superannuation entity • revised content/presentation of financial statements (e.g. the introduction of a statement of changes in member benefits and a statement of changes in equity/reserves) • use of fair value rather than net market value for measuring assets and liabilities (subject to certain exceptions) • revised member liability recognition and measurement requirements • new requirements regarding employer-sponsor receivables • new / revised disclosure requirements For further information, refer to TA Alert 2014-07.	1 July 2016	[If the superannuation entity has undertaken a detailed assessment and concluded that there will be a material impact] When this standard is adopted for the first time for the year ending 30 June 2017, there will be significant changes to the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosures relating to the entity's financial statements. For instance, assets and liabilities will generally be measured at 'fair value through profit or loss' rather than at 'net market value'. The entity will apply the requirements of this Standard retrospectively in accordance with AASB 108 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors. However, a statement of financial position as at the beginning of the earliest comparative period (i.e. as at 1 July 2015) will not be presented as permitted by AASB 1056. [If the superannuation entity has not undertaken a detailed assessment but expects there will be no material impact based on a preliminary assessment] The entity is yet to undertake a detailed assessment of the impact of AASB 1056. However, based on the entity's preliminary assessment, the Standard is not expected to have a material impact on the financial statements when it is first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017.

AASB 1057 Application of Australian Accounting Standards	None	In May 2015, the AASB decided to revise Australian Accounting Standards that incorporate IFRSs to minimise Australian-specific wording even further. The AASB noted that IFRSs do not contain application paragraphs that identify the entities and financial reports to which the Standards (and Interpretations) apply. As a result, the AASB decided to move the application paragraphs previously contained in each Australian Accounting Standard (or Interpretation), unchanged, into a new Standard AASB 1057 Application of Australian Accounting Standards .	1 January 2016	When this Standard is first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017, there will be no impact on the financial statements.
AASB 14 Regulatory Deferral Accounts	None	AASB 14 permits first-time adopters of Australian Accounting Standards who conduct rate-regulated activities to continue to account for amounts related to rate regulation in accordance with their previous GAAP. Accordingly, an entity that applies AASB 14 may continue to apply its previous GAAP accounting policies for the recognition, measurement, impairment and derecognition of its regulatory deferral account balances. This exemption is not available to entities who already apply Australian Accounting Standards.	1 January 2016	[If the entity is not a first-time adopter of Australian Accounting Standards or not conducting any rate-regulated activities] When AASB 14 becomes effective for the first time for the year ending 30 June 2017, it will not have any impact on the entity.

AASB 2014-7 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards arising from AASB 9 (December 2014)	None	AASB 2014-7 incorporates the consequential amendments arising from the issuance of AASB 9.	1 January 2018	Refer to the section on AASB 9 above.
AASB 2014-9 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Equity Method in Separate Financial Statements	None	The amendments introduce the equity method of accounting as one of the options to account for an entity's investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures and associates in the entity's separate financial statements.	1 January 2016	[If the entity has concluded that there will be no material impact] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017 , there will be no material impact on the financial statements.
AASB 2014-10 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture	None	The amendments address a current inconsistency between AASB 10 Consolidated Financial Statements and AASB 128 Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures . The amendments clarify that, on a sale or contribution of assets to a joint venture or associate or on a loss of control when joint control or significant influence is retained in a transaction involving an associate or a joint venture, any gain or loss recognised will depend on whether the assets or subsidiary constitute a business, as defined in AASB 3 Business Combinations . Full gain or loss is recognised when the assets or subsidiary constitute a business, whereas gain or loss attributable to other investors' interests is recognised when the assets or subsidiary do not constitute a business. This amendment effectively introduces an exception to the general requirement in AASB 10 to recognise full gain or loss on the loss of control over a subsidiary. The exception only applies to the loss of control over a subsidiary that does not contain a business, if the loss of control is the result of a transaction involving an associate or a joint venture that is accounted for using the equity method. Corresponding amendments have also been made to AASB 128. AASB 2015-10 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Effective Date of Amendments to AASB 10 and AASB 128 deferred the mandatory application date of AASB 2014-10 from 1 January 2016 to 1 January 2018. Refer to the section on AASB 2015-10 below for further information.	1 January 2018	[If the entity has concluded that there will be no material impact] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2019 , there will be no material impact on the financial statements.

AASB 2015-1 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Annual Improvements to Australian Accounting Standards 2012-2014 Cycle	None	These amendments arise from the issuance of Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2012-2014 Cycle in September 2014 by the IASB. Among other improvements, the amendments clarify that when an entity reclassifies an asset (or disposal group) directly from being held for sale to being held for distribution (or vice-versa), the accounting guidance in paragraphs 27-29 of AASB 5 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations does not apply. The amendments also state that when an entity determines that the asset (or disposal group) is no longer available for immediate distribution or that the distribution is no longer highly probable, it should cease held-for-distribution accounting and apply the guidance in paragraphs 27-29 of AASB 5.	1 January 2016	When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017, there will be no material impact on the financial statements.
AASB 2015-2 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Disclosure Initiative: Amendments to AASB 101	None	The Standard makes amendments to AASB 101 Presentation of Financial Statements arising from the IASB's Disclosure Initiative project. The amendments: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> clarify the materiality requirements in AASB 101, including an emphasis on the potentially detrimental effect of obscuring useful information with immaterial information clarify that AASB 101's specified line items in the statement(s) of profit or loss and other comprehensive income and the statement of financial position can be disaggregated add requirements for how an entity should present subtotals in the statement(s) of profit and loss and other comprehensive income and the statement of financial position clarify that entities have flexibility as to the order in which they present the notes, but also emphasise that understandability and comparability should be considered by an entity when deciding that order remove potentially unhelpful guidance in AASB 101 for identifying a significant accounting policy 	1 January 2016	[If the entity has concluded that there will be no materiality impact] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017, there will be no material impact on the financial statements.

AASB 2015-5 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Investment Entities: Applying the Consolidation Exception	None	The narrow-scope amendments to AASB 10 Consolidated Financial Statements , AASB 12 Disclosure of Interests in Other Entities and AASB 128 Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures introduce clarifications to the requirements when accounting for investment entities. The amendments also provide relief in particular circumstances, which will reduce the costs of applying the Standards.	1 January 2016	[If the entity has concluded that there will be no material impact] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017 , there will be no material impact on the financial statements.
AASB 2015-6 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Extending Related Party Disclosures to Not-for-Profit Public Sector Entities	None	The amendments extend the scope of AASB 124 Related Party Disclosures to include not-for-profit public sector entities. The key impact of the amendments is to specify consistent related party disclosure requirements for the Australian Government, State Governments, local councils and other not-for-profit public sector entities.	1 July 2016	[All entities other than not-for-profit public sector entities] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017 , there will be no impact on the financial statements. [Not-for-profit public sector entities that have concluded that there will be a material impact] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017 , there will be significant additional disclosures on the financial statements. [Not-for-profit public sector entities that have concluded that there will be no material impact] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017 , there will be no material impact on the financial statements.

AASB 2015-7 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Fair Value Disclosures of Not-for-Profit Public Sector Entities	None	AASB 2015-7 amends AASB 13 Fair Value Measurement to provide disclosure relief to not-for-profit public sector entities from certain disclosures about the fair value measurements of property, plant and equipment held for their current service potential rather than to generate net cash inflows. This includes relief from disclosures of quantitative information about the significant unobservable inputs used in fair value measurements and of the sensitivity of certain fair value measurements to changes in unobservable inputs.	1 July 2016	[All entities other than not-for-profit public sector entities] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017, there will be no impact on the financial statements. [Not-for-profit public sector entities that have concluded that there will be a material impact] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017, disclosures of quantitative information about the significant unobservable inputs used in fair value measurements and the sensitivity of certain fair value measurements to changes in unobservable inputs will no longer be required. [Not-for-profit public sector entities that have concluded that there will be no material impact] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017, there will be no material impact on the financial statements.
AASB 2015-8 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Effective Date of AASB 15	None	AASB 2015-8 amends the mandatory application date of AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers so that AASB 15 is required to be applied for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018 instead of 1 January 2017. It also defers the consequential amendments that were originally set out in AASB 2014-5 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards arising from AASB 15 .	1 January 2017	Refer to the section on AASB 15 above.
AASB 2015-9 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Scope and Application Paragraphs	None	AASB 2015-9 inserts scope paragraphs into AASB 8 Operating Segments and AASB 133 Earnings per Share in place of application paragraph text in AASB 1057. In July and August 2015, the AASB reissued AASB 8, AASB 133 and most of the Australian Accounting Standards that incorporate IFRSs to make editorial changes. The application paragraphs in the previous versions of AASB 8 and AASB 133 covered scope paragraphs that appear separately in the corresponding IFRS 8 and IAS 33. In moving those application paragraphs to AASB 1057 when AASB 8 and AASB 133 were reissued in August, the AASB inadvertently deleted the scope details from AASB 8 and AASB 133. This amending Standard puts the scope details into those Standards, and removes the related text from AASB 1057. There is no change to the requirements or the applicability of AASB 8 and AASB 133.	1 January 2016	When this Standard is first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2017 , there will be no impact on the financial statements.

AASB 2015-10 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Effective Date of Amendments to AASB 10 and AASB 128	None	This Standard defers the mandatory application date of amendments to AASB 10 Consolidated Financial Statements and AASB 128 Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures that were originally made in AASB 2014-10 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture so that the amendments are required to be applied for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018 instead of 1 January 2016. The amendments have been deferred as the IASB is planning to address them as part of its longer term Equity Accounting project. However, early application of the amendments is still permitted.	1 January 2016	Refer to the section on AASB 2014-10 above.
AASB 2016-1 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Recognition of Deferred Tax Assets for Unrealised Losses	None	AASB 2016-1 amends AASB 112 Income Taxes to clarify how to account for deferred tax assets related to debt instruments measured at fair value, particularly where changes in the market interest rate decrease the fair value of a debt instrument below cost.	1 January 2017	[If the entity has concluded that there will be no material impact] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2018, there will be no material impact on the financial statements.
AASB 2016-2 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Disclosure Initiative: Amendments to AASB 107	None	AASB 2016-2 amends AASB 107 Statement of Cash Flows to require entities preparing financial statements in accordance with Tier 1 reporting requirements to provide disclosures that enable users of financial statements to evaluate changes in liabilities arising from financing activities, including both changes arising from cash flows and non-cash changes.	1 January 2017	[If the entity has concluded that there will be no material impact] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2018, there will be no material impact on the financial statements.

Standards issued by the IASB, but not yet by the AASB
Clarifications to IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers	None	The amendments clarify the application of IFRS 15 in three (3) specific areas to reduce the extent of diversity in practice that might otherwise result from differing views on how to implement the requirements of the new standard. They will help companies: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 Identify performance obligations (by clarifying how to apply the concept of 'distinct'); 2 Determine whether a company is a principal or an agent in a transaction (by clarifying how to apply the control principle); 3 Determine whether a licence transfers to a customer at a point in time or over time (by clarifying when a company's activities significantly affect the intellectual property to which the customer has rights). The amendments also create two (2) additional practical expedients available for use when implementing IFRS 15: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 For contracts that have been modified before the beginning of the earliest period presented, the amendments allow companies to use hindsight when identifying the performance obligations, determining the transaction price, and allocating the transaction price to the satisfied and unsatisfied performance obligations. 2 Companies applying the full retrospective method are permitted to ignore contracts already complete at the beginning of the earliest period presented. The AASB is expected to publish the equivalent Australian amendments in quarter 2 of 2016.	1 January 2018	[If the entity has concluded that there will be no material impact] When these amendments are first adopted for the year ending 30 June 2019, there will be no material impact on the financial statements.

Action required

With the 30 June 2016 reporting deadlines fast approaching, entities should now take time to review and consider the impact of new and revised accounting standards that have been issued but are not yet effective. This is particularly important considering that ASIC is looking to scrutinise disclosures in this area. It is expected that ASIC will include the impact of the new revenue, financial instruments and leases standards as a specific area of focus for the 30 June 2016 reporting season.
