

Infrastructure project management services

Grant Thornton Australia, in conjunction with its strategic partners, Touch Projects and Kyriacou Architects, was successfully appointed to Rail Project Victoria's (RPV's) Project Management Advisory Services Panel.

Victoria's rapidly growing population, shifting demographics and changing commuter preferences are putting pressure on existing transport infrastructure. To meet current and future demand for services, the RPV has established a panel to help deliver a large suite of projects that will support growth, drive social change and help Melbourne retain its place as a leading global liveable city.

Why are we different?

Grant Thornton, Touch Projects and Kyriacou Architects offer a streamlined, comprehensive portfolio of services for infrastructure delivery.

Our team is a unique blend of project management and professional service skills, public transport and construction management expertise and architectural design capabilities.

Alongside our local specialists, access to our global team of rail and transport experts will ensure that we tailor our services based on world's best practice.

We operate as a single, seamless team dedicated to enhanced client service, competitive pricing and exceptional talent.

What is the RPV Project Management Advisory Services Panel?

RPV is responsible for delivering billions of dollars worth of rail infrastructure over the coming decade in Victoria.

The Project Management Advisory Services Panel provides highly experienced, capable and qualified resources for project management functions so RPV can better respond to their dynamic and expanding projects and programs.

By accessing panel resources through the streamlined engagement process, you save time and money and gain swift access to the right skills and expertise to successfully deliver your infrastructure projects. All panel members are pre-approved service providers with agreed rates, an executed head agreement and a thorough understanding of the Victorian Government's social procurement objectives.

The panel of suppliers will help service RPV projects, including Metro Tunnel Project, Regional Rail Revival, Victorian Rail Infrastructure Program and Melbourne Airport Rail Link. However, the panel is also available for use by the Department of Transport on all current and future projects within the MTIA.

How does it work?
